1. The Hungarian Ministry of War requested the Goldberger textile works to finish the dying of 1 million meters of camouflage material ordered on 1 December 1954 before the promised date of 15 July 1955.
2. The Goldberger firm replied to the ministry that their capacity is 128 pieces in an eight hour shift (1 piece equal to 42.7 meters) and compliance with their request would mean ignoring important orders for the Soviet Union and the Chinese Government. Unless the Ministry of War gave written orders for such export contracts to be stopped immediately, the Goldberger works could not make the desired alteration in delivery date.
